

Linda Miller New ACBL Life Master

Linda's journey actually began a long time ago in high school when her mother decided she should learn to play party bridge. They had two tables of 3 and two teachers. Linda didn't actually play for many years until on a hike in the Yellowstone area she overheard someone talking about bridge and she mentioned that she used to play. Well that was it, she taught Linda and her Montana partner to play. Linda still plays with her weekly on BBO and it's a good way to stay connected. She lived 100 miles from Linda's home club in Bozeman so in Montana she only gets to play once a week. Linda winters in Southern California and plays in Palm Desert at a wonderful club with 80 tables. She has a great partner who winters there from Toronto and she has done a lot for Linda. She attained all her gold and most of my red with her. It's a great game that has brought her a great deal of enjoyment. It is a game that is always challenging and always has a new situation. Linda wishes there was some way to get more young people involved in game. She thinks if they found out how challenging the game actually is they would love it.
